James River Green Building Council
Board Position Nomination Form

JRGBC Mission

As a Chapter of the U.S. Green Building Council, the James River Green Building Council is a coalition of leaders from across the building industry working to promote buildings that are environmentally responsible, profitable and healthy places to live and work. The JRGBC is leading a regional consensus for producing a new generation of buildings that deliver high performance inside and out.

The JRGBC is accomplishing this by promoting LEED® products and resources through policy and educational and marketing tools that support the adoption of sustainable building. The Chapter fosters strategic alliances with key industry and research organizations and state and local government agencies to transform the built environment.

Together, the USGBC and JRGBC represent the industry on environmental building matters. Collectively, these organizations can effect change in the way buildings are designed, built and maintained.

JRGBC Board Position

Nominations for positions on the JRGBC Board of Directors are now being accepted. Nominees should be committed to the JRGBC Mission stated above and able to attend bi-monthly Board meetings and JRGBC events, as well as be involved in at least one committee. Nominees from USGBC Member Organizations are preferred. All applications will be reviewed by the JRGBC Nominating Committee and all nominees will be contacted. You may nominate someone whom you think meets the qualifications that the JRGBC is looking for, or you may nominate yourself. The current JRGBC Board is specifically seeking individuals who are in: Local and State Governments, Financial Institutions, Universities/Research Institutes, Building Owners/Property Managers, Interior Design and landscape architects. However, we welcome nominations from other sustainable fields of work.
